BLEEKER FOUNDATION

relief for teenage mothers
in Cameroon

“Volunteers are not paid
– not because they are worthless,
but because they are priceless.”

BleekerFoundation's main objective is to reduce the alarming teenage pregnancy rate in Cameroon. We aim to achieve that through education. Nevertheless we believe it is important to give the existing teenage mothers a second chance to improve their overall standard of living and become independent and productive.

BleekerFoundation full scholarships are now open ONLY for teenage mothers in Cameroon who have demonstrated genuine interest in becoming self-reliant, thereby improving their standard of living and that of their children. The scholarship is divided in two phases.

Teenage mothers from Mary Clara association attended interviews at the BleekerFoundation board Cameroon with regards to our 2016 Scholarships. Registrations are still on.

Seminar: Adolescent motherhood in sub-Saharan Africa

BleekerFoundation held a first of its kind Seminar at the university of Amsterdam. Teenage motherhood, illegal and unsafe abortions are still a huge problem in Sub Saharan Africa. Our seminar raised awareness on the psychosocial, physical and economic consequents of these problems. The seminar was graced by experts on the subject matter.

Many thanks once more for your much needed support. To see all our activities, visit our website and our Facebook page. We open our doors in November in Cameroon to the youths of south western region Cameroon. We bring to their schools, churches and homes free sexual reproductive health education, all thanks to you.
